- *You must be legal drinking age and may be required to show proof
- *Picks must be submitted each week by Saturday before close (2 am) and in the event of a Saturday game Friday before close
- *All pick sheets must have player's name and phone number every week in order to be valid
- *Staff sheets will be posted Saturday night by close in order to be valid NO EXCEPTIONS!
- *Any discrepancy between the picks on your copy and the ones submitted, the latter will prevail
- *We will no longer be accepting faxes due to the accuracy and extra work
- *Thursday games do not count in the standings, Saturday games do

EASY AS 1-2-3

Step one: Mark each pick on your sheet. If you miss one you will get the home team
Step two: Include predicted total points for the Monday night game tie breaker
Step three: Drop the picks off at the Buck & Ear into the NFL Box by close

TIE BREAKER

The Monday night game total points scored is the tie breaker. The closest to the correct points in either direction will win. ie: Tim picks 24 points, Doug picks 32. The total game points are 29... Doug wins. If there is still a tie the money will be split evenly.

LOSER POOL

It's back! And it's only $5 to play!

Pick a team each week that you think will lose their game. Enter the team at the bottom of your pick sheet. You must pick a different team each week. It's that easy. No point spreads here. Last man standing wins it all! If we get an early winner, we will do another loser pool for another $5 and we'll do as many as the season allows. If you forget to mark a team one week, or you pick a team you have already chosen, you will be eliminated. So keep track!

50/50

We will be doing a 50/50 draw every Monday night which will be drawn at the end of the game. We will sell 3 tickets for $5 and for every 3 you buy you will get a super bowl 50/50 entry. Half of the sales will go into the super bowl accumulating pot and the other half will be won every Monday. You must be here to win!

Be here for the AFC and NFC Championship games & Members Breakfast
Sunday January 21st 2007

Super Bowl XLI
Sunday February 4 2007

We'll be giving away lots of great prizes to any one who plays in the pool!
